Activate software licenses

Activate software licenses

To activate a license for your Axis product, you need license keys. To get the license keys, you need to specify which products you want to activate and when to activate them.

If you don't have a license yet, click on Where to buy licenses to get information on local resellers from all over the world.

Get a license key for your Axis product

- Go to AXIS License Manager
- Select the organization to manage.

Note

Check to see that the organization is the correct one as there is currently no way of transferring licenses between organizations.

- Click Next.
- Go to Overview.
- Click Activate licenses.
- Select the software to activate
- Select the date you want the license to activate
- Click Next
- Accept the software specific terms & conditions.
- Click Next.
- Review the summary to make sure everything is in order.
- Click Finish

Redeem License Keys

- Go to Overview.
- Click Redeem license key.
- In Wallet, type or paste the license key.
- Click Redeem license key.
- Go to Overview. The License status should now show the software to be licensed.

Note

You need to activate all licenses of a particular product to complete the activation.
